

Adding the latest heating and cooling technology to the homes you build just got easier. Trane's Builder Program offers custom-tailored equipment packages, unparalleled support and special incentives.

Special Product Packages

Trane offers HVAC systems for every home you build, from entry level/first time home buyers to luxury/discerning home buyers. This includes upgrade options to enhance your offering to prospective homeowners. Backed by a strong reputation for quality, every Trane system provides superior reliability and comfort, with years of trouble-free operation.

Unparalleled Support

Nationwide, we have more than 400 warehouses, 88 company-owned sales locations, 160+ field service representatives and a dedicated customer experience team—all who are committed to your success. Additionally, with one of the largest certified dealer networks in the country, you can feel confident your homebuyers will receive expert service long after you're done constructing their home.

Incentive Programs

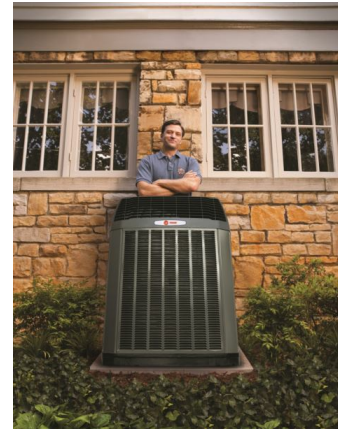

With a variety of financial incentive options, we give you several ways to manage your cash flow and your profitability. Ask your Trane representative about incentive options available specifically for the builder market.

Build your Reputation on Trane.

Our high quality heating and cooling systems promise homebuyers reliability, longevity and innovative features-and you, a happy customer!
